The Monkey and The Two Cats One day, two cats found a piece of cake. They both started fighting for the cake. A Monkey saw the two cats fighting. He took the cake and made two parts of it. The monkey said," this one is bigger than the other." He took bite from one piece and then from the other as if to make them equal. He went on biting from both the pieces till only two tiny bits of cake were left. Finally, he ate the two tiny bits also. The cats did not get any cake at all. Moral : When two friends fight, the third person takes advantage of it.
